

Brownfields 2005 Grant Fact Sheet

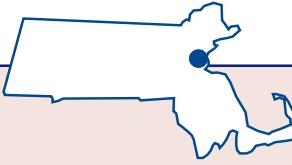

Somerville, MA

EPA Brownfields Program

EPA's Brownfields Program empowers states, communities, and other stakeholders in economic development to work together to prevent, assess, safely clean up, and sustainably reuse brownfields. A brownfield site is real property, the expansion, redevelopment, or reuse of which may be complicated by the presence or potential presence of a hazardous substance, pollutant, or contaminant. On January 11, 2002, President George W. Bush signed into law the Small Business Liability Relief and Brownfields Revitalization Act. Under the Brownfields Law, EPA provides financial assistance to eligible applicants through four competitive grant programs: assessment grants, revolving loan fund grants, cleanup grants, and job training grants. Additionally, funding support is provided to state and tribal response programs through a separate mechanism.

Community Description

The City of Somerville was selected to receive a brownfields assessment grant. This suburb of Boston, with 77,500 residents on 4.2 square miles of land, is one of the most densely populated areas in New England. Approximately 35 percent of its residents speak a language at home other than English, and 12.5 percent live in poverty. In addition to strictly industrial/commercial areas, the community originally was developed in a pattern in which industrial enterprises were surrounded by worker residences. As these enterprises have closed, they have left blighted neighborhoods as well as abandoned commercial areas. Somerville has an ongoing brownfields redevelopment program and has used previous grant money to identify
